

Planning and Development | Know Where To Go

The Planning Division is excited to be moving into two heritage buildings at 206 Dundas Street! Many Londoners will recognize the new Planning Division offices as the site of the former Capitol Theatre. The Planning Division's new home is located on the north side of Dundas Street, between Clarence and Richmond Streets.

It is important to note that services previously provided at City Hall will now be offered at our new location at 206 Dundas Street. In order to help our customers, clients and applicants know where to go for assistance on planning matters - the table below identifies which services are provided at our various locations.

The Department of Planning and Development includes four separate Divisions, including:

1. Planning Division - Only the Planning Division will be moving
2. Development Approvals Business Unit
3. Building Division
4. Housing Division.

Use the following table to determine which service you are seeking and where you should be going to obtain that service.
