A Message from Mayor Josh Morgan and Council

On behalf of London's City Council, I am proud to present Council's 2023-2027 Strategic Plan. This plan identifies the shared vision, mission and priorities that will guide the City's next four years, reflecting the needs and expectations of the community. It is our roadmap to delivering on our commitment to make life better in London.

Like all communities, London is navigating an uncertain time with unprecedented challenges. Through the 2022 municipal election and in the development of this plan, we heard directly from thousands of residents about their concerns. We heard how deeply troubled Londoners are about homelessness in our community. We heard that Londoners don't feel as safe as they used to. We heard how the rising costs of housing and basic needs are making a future in London seem less certain.

We also heard Londoners' hopes for the future. We talked to new Londoners, excited about starting school, about new jobs, about meeting their new neighbours. We heard how much Londoners appreciate and value our parks, trails, and greenspaces. We heard Londoners' visions for a cleaner, more accessible, more welcoming community that they can be proud of.

This Strategic Plan is the culmination of all those stories, and our hope is that you will join us in working together to make life better for all Londoners.

How the Strategic Plan is Developed

Earlier in the year, Council began deliberating various components of the 2023-2027 Strategic Plan. Londoners were asked to share their input and feedback through various engagement opportunities throughout the Strategic Plan development process. As Council received this information, they took it into consideration when developing the Strategic Areas of Focus for the 2023-2027 Strategic Plan.

As you read through the Strategic Plan, it is important to note that a vision sets the direction for our organization, a mission articulates the purpose of the work we do and our values are the guiding principles we apply to our work.

Improving quality of life and building a strong and vibrant community through bold, proactive, and accountable City services.

Values

- Inclusivity and Respect
- Accountability and Trust

- Commitment and Drive
- Learning
- Financial Stewardship

Strategic Areas of Focus

Strategic Areas of Focus articulate where we will focus over the next four years and organize the functional elements of the plan.

Reconciliation, Equity,
Accessibility, and Inclusion

Housing and Homelessness

Wellbeing and Safety

Safe London for Women, Girls, and Gender-Diverse and Trans People

Economic Growth,
Culture, and Prosperity

Well-Run City

Reconciliation, Equity, Accessibility, and Inclusion

Londoners told us they want our community to be welcoming, inclusive, and accessible, and that the City of London should be a leader in standing up against hate and intolerance.

Strategies in this section focus specifically on creating a more welcoming environment for those who are often excluded. It includes strategies about how we work with Indigenous communities and organizations; attracting and welcoming newcomers; and supporting and promoting inclusivity and accessibility across the community.

Working collaboratively, intentionally, and integrating these values across all our work, we will help make London a community that is equitable, inclusive, and accessible for everyone.

- The City of London enhances the confidence of Indigenous Peoples by furthering truth and reconciliation efforts.
- The City of London is a leader in becoming an equitable and inclusive community.
- All Londoners have opportunities to participate in civic engagement.

Housing and Homelessness

Londoners recognize the urgent need for action in addressing homelessness in our community, and want London to be a safe and affordable place for all residents.

This section focuses on addressing these issues, including providing more affordable and supported housing; supporting Londoners experiencing homelessness; improving overall housing affordability; and using a cohesive, whole-of-community system to get it all done.

Taking a unified and collaborative approach to housing and homelessness, we will create meaningful change and improve the lives of all Londoners – especially for our most marginalized residents.

- The City of London demonstrates leadership and builds partnerships to increase quality, affordable, and supportive housing options.
- London has a robust community system of health, homelessness, housing stability services, policies, procedures and by-laws in place to support individuals and families at risk of or experiencing homelessness or in precarious housing consistent with Council’s recognition of the health and homelessness emergency.

Wellbeing and Safety

Londoners have consistently told us that community safety is one of their top priorities, and that feeling safe is essential to their wellbeing and quality of life.

This section focuses on addressing safety concerns and supporting Londoners' overall quality of life: improving public spaces such as parks and recreation centres, delivering services that enhance the quality of life for residents, providing better emergency services, promoting health equity, and supporting better affordability with our city.

Prioritizing safety and quality of life for all Londoners, we will make London a community where everyone feels safe, welcome, and supported.

Safe London for Women, Girls, and Gender-Diverse and Trans People

Londoners recognize community safety as a fundamental role of the City's work, and that making our community safer for everyone means putting extra attention where it is needed most.

This section of the Strategic Plan is an evolution of the City's "Safe London" work, recognizing that gender-based and sexual violence disproportionately impacts women and girls, as well as gender-diverse and trans people. Strategies focus on ways the City, our agencies, boards, and commissions, and our employees can help to reduce gender-based violence in all its forms, including by: supporting community-based programs; improving our capacity to recognize and intervene in instances of violence and abuse; increasing awareness and prevention efforts related to sex-trafficking; and considering the safety of women, girls, gender-diverse and trans people specifically in municipal policies, programs, and planning.

By improving safety for women, girls, gender-diverse and trans people, we will build a safer community for all Londoners.

- The City of London demonstrates leadership by taking meaningful actions to address and eliminate all forms of violence against women and girls, gender-based violence, and sexual violence.

Expected Results and Strategies on page 49

What we heard

"Gender-based violence seems like a problem that's too big to solve, but it starts by finding ways to address the barriers that women and gender-diverse people face every day."

Londoners want our community to thrive, providing economic opportunity and quality of life for today and for future generations.

This section focuses on driving economic growth and opportunity. Strategies centre on attracting talent, downtown revitalization, addressing commercial and residential vacancy, becoming a regional hub for economic activity, supporting small and growing businesses, and investing in cultural industries such as music, arts, and film.

Focusing on creating inclusive opportunities for all residents to benefit from the city's economic growth, London will become a thriving community that attracts top talent, creates new business opportunities, and invests in the cultural industries that make our city unique.

- London encourages equitable economic growth and diversification.
- London is a destination of choice.

This section focuses on getting around our city safely and easily, using all modes of transportation, including walking, cycling, driving, and public transit. Strategies focus on improving the reliability, quality, and safety of transit and transportation infrastructure; improving accessibility, including for people with disabilities; and creating a better-connected transportation network across the city, including connections to other cities.

Making it easier to get where we need to go supports quality of life and unlocks opportunity for all Londoners. By building a more efficient, better connected, and more accessible transportation network, we will put London on the road to a brighter future.

- Londoners of all identities, abilities and means can move throughout the city safely and efficiently.

Expected Results and Strategies on page 59

Affordable Housing (programs): Programs and investments from all orders of government that make the cost of housing more affordable in comparison to average market rent within the private rental market. These units are not social housing and are not managed by the Service Manager.

Circular Economy: The circular economy is regenerative where everything is valued, resources are more efficiently used, nothing is wasted, and everything is a resource that can be fed back into the beginning of production cycles in a closed-loop system.

Equity-Denied Groups: Equity-denied groups are communities of people who are excluded from fully participating in society because of systemic barriers.

Equity Tool: The City of London's equity tool is one strategic way to dismantle racism and oppression. It is a series of questions that prompt users to consider the specific impacts of a proposal (policy, procedure, program, service, event, budget, funding, or even a decision) on equity-denied groups, to consider any relevant data or information available about those impacted, to intentionally engage with those who will be most impacted, and to articulate what will be done now to improve equitable outcomes, and what will be done in the future.

Infrastructure Gap: The Infrastructure Gap is a dollar amount based on the difference between a) the amount of money that needs to be spent on City-owned assets required to provide services to Londoners and b) the amount of funding presently identified in future budgets or reserve funds over a 10 year period. Ideally, the Infrastructure Gap declines over time as greater investment is made to replace older infrastructure, to improve the condition of infrastructure and to minimize the risks associated with failing assets.

Mobility (or Transportation) Poverty: refers to situations where socio-economic marginalization combines with transportation barriers to mutually reinforce problems in peoples' lives, preventing them from thriving. Transportation-related social exclusion is the outcome of transport poverty, as it results from the activities that people miss out on due to one's transportation situation, things like missing job interviews and doctors' visits, as well as feelings of isolation. (Source: National Transport Equity Survey)

Sexual Violence: a form of gender-based violence and is a broad term that describes any violence, physical or psychological, carried out through sexual means or by targeting sexuality.
