Who we are:
- The Anti-Racism and Anti-Oppression Division are committed to create and sustain action-focused, positive, and lasting systemic change in the City of London so that race or membership in an equity-denied group does not predict one’s access to opportunities or ability to engage whole heartedly in the London community. We will do this through relationship building, research, community engagement, best practices, education, critical self-reflection and shared leadership.

What we do:
- Support implementation of the Anti-Racism and Anti-Oppression Framework and Equity Tool across the Corporation.
- Offer training on topics of Anti-Racism and Anti-Oppression.
• Develop and implement Action Plans to address racism and oppression.
• Support community engagement strategies that intentionally engage with equity-denied communities.
• Provide advice, guidance, leadership and coaching to City staff on developing a more equitable and inclusive workplace.

Why we do it:
• Traditional – The Anti-Racism and Anti-Oppression Division was formed in response to Council’s direction following the acknowledgement that systemic racism and oppression exist within the Corporation and within the community. Council’s 2023-2027 Strategic Plan established Reconciliation, Equity, Accessibility, and Inclusion as a strategic area of focus.

Environmental, Socio-economic Equity and Governance (ESG) Considerations

Environmental, Socio-economic Equity and Governance Profile for this service:

Environmental:
Theory is evidence that equity-denied groups tend to have a lower economic status and the intersection of these identities are more negatively impacted by the effects of climate change. By engaging with these communities and implementing their recommendations, we can better predict and improve outcomes for these groups who will be greatly impacted by the climate emergency.

Socio-economic Equity:
The work of the Anti-Racism and Anti-Oppression Division specifically aims to improve outcomes for equity-denied communities. These groups fair disproportionately worse than others and the Anti-Racism and Anti-Oppression Division supports the Corporation to identify and address these inequities by engaging equity-denied people in the Corporation and the community and implementing their feedback and recommendations. It will also be done through applying the City’s Anti-Racism and Anti-Oppression Framework and Equity Tool to the work we deliver that impacts all Londoners.

Governance:
The City has prioritized anti-racism and anti-oppression work throughout the 2023 to 2027 Strategic Plan including the Reconciliation, Equity, Accessibility and Inclusion Area of Focus. Many commitments have been made to create a more welcoming, inclusive, and safe community for all Londoners. London is at the forefront of leading this work with our community and with other levels of government who we are currently in partnership with.
